AUTO CRASH FATAL TO MRS. KOLKEBECK

Cars Collide as Mother and Son Were on Way
To Antioch

WELL KNOWN HERE

The automobile in which Father Kolkebeck was driving to Antioch Saturday night, where he was to preside in St. Ignatius' Episcopal church Sunday morning, collided with another machine, driven by David Winship of Oak Park, and Mrs. Joseph Kolkebeck, 52 years old, Chicago, mother of the pastor, was killed, and three occupants of the second motor injured.

The accident happened at Dempster street and Waukegan road, two miles west of Evanston. Both cars crashed into the ditch. Mrs. Kolkebeck died almost instantly. Fr. Kolkebeck was injured slightly. The three injured men in the other machine were rushed to the Evanston hospital.

Fr. Kolkebeck had planned on exchanging Sundays with Mr. Brock so that he might be in Antioch to administer Baptism and Holy Communion. He started out from his home for Antioch on Saturday afternoon and was accompanied by his mother in his machine.

Mrs. Kolkebeck was well known in Antioch and was highly respected by the whole community. The funeral was held on Wednesday of this week at the Church of the Holy Apostles, Leland and Drake streets, Chicago, at 10:30 in the morning.

When Mr. Brock in LaSalle heard of the accident, he telephoned to the Seminary and asked that a lay reader be sent to Antioch to conduct the services in the absence of Fr. Kolkebeck. Mr. Muir came from the Seminary, only to find that the services in Antioch had been called off, because it was thought that no one would come for them. The prayers of the congregation of St. Ignatius' Church are asked for the Kolkebeck family at this time.

MERCURY DROPS 51 DEGREES IN 24 HOURS

The coldest weather of the year swept down from the Northwest on Friday evening and Saturday morning. During most of Friday the thermometer registered 37 degrees above zero and several times during the day it drizzled lightly. At 8 o'clock Saturday morning it was 10 below zero and kept going down until about 11 o'clock when the lowest point was reached, 14 degrees below. After noon it started on the upward trend and remained near the zero mark during the remainder of the day and practically all of Sunday.

20 Years Ago in Antioch

Thursday, February 5, 1903

The groundhog saw his shadow Monday, and according to tradition we are to have six weeks more of winter, and to make this prophecy good a genuine old-fashioned snow storm started in Tuesday morning and did not abate till Wednesday night. This may not be news to those who reside here, but to those who are sojourning in the south and California will be glad to know that they are where they can enjoy the sunshine and warm weather.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Hucker, Wednesday, Jan. 28, a daughter.

Ira Boylan of Chicago spent Sunday with his mother and other Antioch friends.

John Drury spent a few days in Chicago last week the guest of his daughter, Mrs. C. M. Holmes.

Miss Maude Brogan started Sunday for Winthrop Harbor, where she has accepted a position as stenographer.

On Thursday evening, January 29, Mr. and Mrs. John Morley entertained about thirty of their friends at a card party, progressive clinch was indulged in and eight tables were played. Miss Henderson won ladies first prize; E. L. Simons gents first; Mrs. Albert Tiffany captured ladies consolation prize and George Webb and W. R. Williams each struggled manfully for gent's consolation, which resulted in a tie. Cards were then cut to determine the winner which resulted in W. R. Williams receiving the prize on receipt of which he was somewhat surprised to discover that he had false teeth. A dainty lunch was served about 11:30 to which all did ample justice, and all departed for their several homes at a late hour each declaring they had spent a very pleasant evening and hoping it would fall to their lot to again be invited to the home of so genial a hostess.

Bairstow Made Defendant in $10,000 Suit

George Bairstow, candidate for reelection as supervisor of Waukegan township, was made defendant in a suit for $10,000 personal damages filed in the circuit court, by John S. Heath of J. S. Heath Mfg. Co. of Waukegan.

Following an unavoidable collision at Grand avenue and County street Wednesday evening, Bairstow sailed into Mr. Heath, a man 55 years of age, and weighing less than 150 pounds, knocked out two teeth, broke off one and loosened six others, as well as cutting his right ear.

According to witnesses, Mr. Heath, who was returning home from his office in the Terminal, was driving north on County street. His wife was with him. As he approached Grand avenue, the car ahead acted as though it was going to stop at the armory. Mr. Heath turned out into the car tracks to pass, and just at that moment Bairstow came swinging out of Grand avenue, south into County street, also going into the car tracks. The bumpers of the two cars hit, and the pavement being icy, the cars swung around in such a manner that the rear ends collided.

Mr. Heath drew to the curb. He got out and went back to where Mr. Bairstow had parked. As he approached, he remarked: "If our bumpers had not hit we could have got by all right."

Without any warning whatever, according to witnesses, Bairstow drew back and struck Mr. Heath a stunning blow in the mouth, causing the damage to his teeth. A second blow landed on Mr. Heath's right ear, causing blood to flow and render him almost unconscious.

"You're going down to the police station with me," Bairstow said. But, although badly beaten, Mr. Heath replied that he would go to the police station after he had taken his wife home. The latter had been injured in the collision, being thrown forward in such a manner that she hurt her right eye and wrenched her knee.

"No, you're not," Bairstow continued, as he tried to dominate Heath into going at once to the station. After the latter had got into his own car, Bairstow jumped on the running board and crowded himself into a seat regardless of the fact that he was now in the company of a lady.

"Drive to the police station," Bairstow commanded, but once again Mr. Heath declared that he was going to drive his wife home first.

"Well, who are you, anyway?" Bairstow asked.

"I'll tell you who I am," Mrs. Heath spoke up, and she revealed her identity. Whereupon Bairstow realized he had pulled the prize mistake of his career.

"Beg pardon," he said, as he climbed out of the car. "Guess I made a mistake."

And with that Mr. Heath drove on and escorted his wife home, after which he reported the collision end of the affair to the police.

Young People's meeting ..... 6:00
Evening Service ..... 7:00

The Religious Education Institute held in our church last Friday under the direction of Edna M. Baxter, A. M., director of religious education for Chicago Northern district, was of real value to those present, both our local workers and young people and those from other communities over the country. Miss Baxter brought to us from the Board of Sunday Schools, Minnie Clark, specialist of the Board in elementary work, and Warren T. Powell, assistant superintendent of Young People's work.

Miss Clark gave some excellent suggestions on the worship service with the elementary groups and did some effective work in demonstrating how to tell a story to Juniors.

Mr. Powell's address on "The Teacher as a Life-Building" was packed full of helpful material for religious teachers to ponder and practice.

After the afternoon program, the young people enjoyed a social hour together and there was a highly profitable study of the latest and best books on religious education, under the direction of Miss Baxter and Miss Marcella, her assistant.

The fine banquet served at 6:30 by the Ladies Aid, on tables most beautifully decorated, was an occasion worth while to the young people. After some rollicking songs, some class yell and some three minute speeches by the young folks, the address of the evening was given by Mr. Powell. It was full of ideas on Young People's organization and work, and finely illustrated with lantern slides showing vividly what the young people are doing in many places.

Miss Baxter remained with the local workers over Saturday and Sunday and did excellent service in toning up the work in many particulars in the several departments.

Now let every teacher and worker, in earnest prayer, consecrate his or her life to God anew for this great, all-important work of teaching and leading the childhood and youth in the way of Christ.

Everybody come to Sunday School every Sunday.

St. Ignatius' Church News

REGULAR SERVICES

Holy Communion.	8:00 a.m. (Except 3d Sunday)
Church School	9:45 a.m.
Morning Prayer	11:00 a.m.
Holy Eucharist	11:00 a.m. (Third Sunday of Month)

Last Sunday was Septuagesima Sunday and all services were as usual. Church School was well attended and at Morning Prayer the subject of the sermon was the heresy of the Rev. Percy S. Grant of New York.

Dr. Grant has made heretical statements of late, and has been much in the newspapers for it. His heretical statements have concerned the doctrine of the Divinity of Christ, the central doctrine of the Church. All of his statements tend to one conclusion, namely that Christ was nothing more than a man. This is not a new situation, and Dr. Grant is simply reiterating a heresy that is as old as the ages. Those who think that his ideas are modern are very much mistaken. If the ideas of Dr. Grant are true, then the Christian religion is reduced to nothing, and the Church and the Sacraments are nothing. He would reduce the Church to nothing but a debating society. If Christ was the son of the Eternal God, then the Church and the Sacraments are divinely appointed means of grace, and salvation is attainable to every member of it. Which do we want? A debating society, or the eternal salvation of our immortal souls? The answer is obvious. Anything which takes away from the central doctrine of the Divinity of Christ is to be condemned. The Church will act rightly if Dr. Grant is tried for heresy, and deposed from the priesthood of the Church.

Next Sunday, Sexagesima Sunday, the Rev. Alfred D. Kolkebeck will be in charge of the Services and will administer Holy Baptism. The Services will be Holy Communion at 8:00 in the morning, Church School and Holy Baptism at 9:45, and Holy Eucharist and Sermon at 11:00. Everyone is urged to be present and to greet Father Kolkebeck again. Confirmed persons should all receive Holy Communion at this time, since the opportunity is rare.

The Sunday after next is Quinquagesima Sunday, and all the services are as usual on that day. In the afternoon of Sunday Feb. 1st, the Confirmation Class will be started. The children's Lenten Service will be combined with it this year. The Sunday afternoon meeting and instruction will start at 4:30 and will be out promptly at 5:30.

"O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and show ourselves glad in him with psalms." Psalm 95:1:2.

I Waited 20 Years to Get 'Em and Here They Are

FOWLER ESTATE PURE BRED "GOLD STANDARD" HOLSTEINS

LAKE VILLA, ILL.

THE REASON FOR PURE BREDS

The United States Government says: "Purebred live-stock has about 40 percent greater earning power, apart from its breeding or sale value, than scrub stock."

"The superiority of purebreds is due to: Better information as to ancestors, increased production, more economical production and earlier maturity."

This is all based on the government's minute investigation of thousands of herds.

I ALWAYS LOVED THE HOLSTEIN

In 1901 when I brought some sixty high-grade Holsteins, and an A-1 pure bred bull into Lake Villa, my farm home town, I was ridiculed by nearly everyone. So was I when fresh-from-the-city, I had erected five silos, started to inoculate soil, drilling cow peas and sunflowers with corn and discing alfalfa. Times have changed. I did not then or have I now, superior knowledge. I had then, have now faith in the works of others. Successes and failures of others, my failures and any successes have been my guide.

The breeder who can uniformly breed-type and production—can breed dollars like in value to an oil gusher or a gold mine.

The breeder who, after mature investigation, chooses a foundation herd and sticks, will win-win big—if he intelligently culls and that many times requires real nerve.

Families vary greatly in type—unbelievably more than in production. Let us take for example the highest priced female ever sold: "Pabst Pontiac Cornflower," sold to Fred Pabst for $30,000.00 at public auction. (We own six (6) daughters and three bull calves by her first son, "Pabst Pontiac Adonis.")

When this wonder "Cornflower" cow—now but six years old—made her two World's and six Wisconsin State Records she was anything but a good type beifer. She was the opposite. She was a slow good type developer—but in the beginning of her second lactation period she improved in a remarkable manner and today, bred to the great Creator, she is truly a wonder cow in type.

I have found in some families the males were better than the females, in others the reverse.

You will gather from the above the difficulties in the way of choosing a foundation herd. For a Herd-Sire I have been asked from $100 to $15,000. I offered $1500 for a six weeks old calf.

Now that I have my foundation herd complete I do not know where I could duplicate—everything considered—for five times its cost. I feel if anyone starting to breed dairy cattle has been fortunate I certainly have been.

"The fellow who dyes his mustache fools only himself"—I have tried not to fool myself. Those who should know—official records of the Holstein Ass'n—my own seeing of the ancestors and produce of my herds, all say I haven't dyed my mustache."

The foundation females in our herd were selected only after a real studied consideration of 1st Proven Production—the keep-at-it-kind.

2nd Type.
3rd Preferred families.

"IT'S THE BULL" (and that's not two ways.)

All students of breeding will agree that from no particular breeding there will—there has—come many a cow—a "happening" of great performance. Likewise there are many breeders who will select the offspring of such "happening" cows rather than take an animal with a less record, but with great ancestors galore—type in himself and his offspring as well as production.

When I started my hunt for a sire I said:

He must be a great individual.

He must have daughters in milk and those daughters must have type with production, and I must see those daughters and their dams.

I won't buy a record—particularly not a "happening."

One with less records will do me—if—in addition to the other exactions he must have really great ancestors.

And I must have "Sarcastic Lad" breeding.

Now that was a real job cut out for myself, don't you think?

Breeding is like all other successful endeavors—one must have an ideal, an open mind and a "carry-on" determination.

I expended nearly one thousand dollars ($1000) in finding such a bull. I sought in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, New Hampshire, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin. I found him in a herd of sixteen cows (where he had been since 8 months old) on the farm of E. G. Phelps, 1½ miles from Plymouth, Sheboygan county, Wisconsin. All my present herd (except young calves born here) are from the same county.

At an auction sale of pure breeds near Plymouth I saw some unusually high class individuals from every point of view. They had a type apart from any I had ever seen. (Three of the offspring—him or out of his daughters—sold in that sale won four 1sts, one 3rd and two 4ths at the Wisconsin State, Sheboygan County and Fond du Lac County Fairs.) Dr. A. F. Schrage, V. S., later called my attention to the sire of the very "typy" stuff I had seen—one a 3 yr old with a 27.67 lb record which topped the sale in both type and sale price viz., $705.00.

I have seen herd sires $25,000, $30,000, yes more, would not buy, but when I ran my car into that barnyard of E. G. Phelps I saw what no $25,000-$30,000, yes and higher valued sire had not produced for my view.

True I saw less individuality in the dams of the calves and heifers running about, but on no farm—and some I visited would have asked me more for a yearling heifer than Mr. Phelps would for his entire herd—did I see anything approaching the type, everything considered, of those heifers and calves that the bull I now own had sired.

I now own ten of my bull's daughters and one of his two living sons—all the balance of the males had been vealed.

THE NAME OF THIS, I BELIEVE THE BEST LIVING BULL WITH THE LEAST CHANCE AND THE BEST RESULTS WITH CHANCES HAD, IS
